THE Cosmopolitan magazine put on board our eastbound train at Williams, Ariz., tells that Calvin Coolidge is through with public office. In his straightforward statement in Cosmopolitan the ex-president says he will not run for the senate. He would be glad to do useful work, but feels that his presence in the senate, going there from the White House, would embarrass some of his colleagues. It probably would.

It would embarrass, especially those that are publicly dry and privately wet.

HOWEVER, NO MAN CAN say that his troubles are all behind him. The ex-president may find himself in office again. He will still be a young man in 1936, when Herbert Hoover finishes his second term.

It is a 100 per cent certainty that Mr. Coolidge will make no political mistakes in the meanwhile. He simply does not know how to make them.

Is there any doubt that millions of Americans in 1936 will want "four years more of Coolidge?"

Of all misfortunes that can befall a man one of the worst is to have a band of determined women in league against him. Read Euripides' "The Bacchae" and you will believe it.

Some congressmen will soon believe it also. They are the so-called "water-gin" congressmen, accused by the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform of carrying gin on one shoulder, water on the other.

THIS ORGANIZATION OF women opposed to prohibition intends to attack the dry voting, wet drinking statesmen in their home constituencies. Among farmers' wives until recently the percentage of insanity was very high. Living isolated lives, working hard from dawn until long after dark, seeing nobody but the sometimes dull, tired husband and farm hands, was bad for the mind.

Then came rural free delivery, bringing pictures of the latest fashions, and the telephone, with news of neighbors, finally the greatest blessing of all, the radio. Farmers' (Continued on Page 4)

MARION, April 12.—The forty-sixth semi-annual meeting of the Ohio Typographical conference will convene here today for a two-day session. Delegates represent 50 Ohio printers' unions.

One of the highlights of the conference will be a discussion of the proposed five-day week of 40 hours which was taken up at the last meeting of the printers and which will be definitely acted upon at this conference.

A memorial service at the tomb of President Harding, who was a member of the Marion Typographical union, is scheduled for Sunday noon. Sound pictures of the ceremony will be made.

Former Governor A. V. Donahy and Herman R. Witter, mayor of Canton, both former printers, will address the conference Sunday afternoon.

SURVEY WAS TO BE

Farm Data Also Slow In Being Gleaned; Add
More Time

Census-takers in Columbiana county were granted an extension of time for the completion of enumerations, Mrs. Ila Marshall Cronin, of East Liverpool, in charge of this district, announced today.

Enumerations in Salem are not expected to be completed until the latter part of next week, work being reported to be progressing slowly.

Survey's have been completed in only one place in the county, the village of Rogers having issued its complete report early this week.

The enumerations were scheduled to have been completed today, the date of the expiration of the 10-day period allowed census-takers throughout the nation in which to conduct surveys. It is probable that counts will be completed in the majority of cities and towns in the county by next Friday while enumerations in rural areas is expected to take at least another 10-day period.

Many Questions Asked
Reports of enumerators in this city stated that the increased number of questions which are submitted to residents and the fact that many fail to have answers available and cause delays in searching for data, has resulted in the slow progress. The city is already more than 50 per cent completed, however.

Identical reports have been made to Mrs. Cronin from other sections of the county where progress has been slow. Enumerators in rural sections have reported that work will take an unusually long time this year.

Reports were submitted Friday afternoon by Delroy and Sherrodsville, Carroll county villages, but Mrs. Cronin announced today that they will be checked up this afternoon and statistics will not be available until Monday.

Princeton Professor Visions Moon Trip Possible When Man Learns To Use Speed

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 12.—Dr. John Q. Stewart, associated professor of astronomical physics at Princeton university, believes that a dozen decades hence men may travel to the moon.

Based on his calculations on the progress on the rate of travel made during the past century, he expounded his theory in an address before the Brooklyn Institute of arts and sciences last night.

By 1950, he said, a speed of 1,000 miles an hour will be possible and by the year 2050 man will have devised a means of travelling at the rate of 50,000 miles an hour, the speed necessary to make the journey to the moon.

To attain such a speed a fuel capable of releasing many times the energy obtained from coal, gasoline or dynamite must be made available for engineering purposes, he said.

He described a possible ship for a lunar voyage as a sphere, whirling with cannon, which would be propelled into space after the manner of a rocket.

Such a ship he said would be about 119 feet in diameter and weigh about 70,000 metric tons. It would carry a crew of 60 and a group of scientists as passengers.

Would Start From Desert
Starting from a desert, where the discharge of the propelling cannon could do no harm, Dr. Stewart said, the moon-ship would take off about a half hour before noon and about three days before the full moon.

In six minutes the sphere would be 12 miles up and would shoot out of the earth's atmosphere at the rate of 200 miles an hour. After two hours and 29 minutes, he estimated, discharges from the earthward cannon could be stopped and the ship would "travel toward the moon at the rate of 190 miles a minute.

At a height of 12,200 miles, which would be attained in 72 hours, the craft would cross the moon's orbit. (Continued on Page 3)

Six fire alarms were answered by the Salem police department in the past 48 hours, three occurring Thursday and three Friday, Fire Chief V. L. Malloy reported today.

Five grass fires occurred in the two days, the sixth being a blaze which caused damage to a hen-house on the property of Jesse Shuler, Eighth st., at 4:52 p. m. Thursday.

Fire ravaged the vacant lot adjacent to Kelly athletic stadium, East Pershing ave., yesterday afternoon, forcing firemen to turn water onto the flames in addition to using six gallons of chemicals.

Forty gallons of chemicals were used to extinguish a fire occurring on West Eighth st. at 1:42 p. m. Friday.

(By The Associated Press)
ISLETA, N. M., April 12.—Efforts were being made here today to completely identify 19 victims of a motor-bus train crash here, whose bodies were so mangled that some uncertainty still exists regarding names of 12 of the dead.

Ten other passengers aboard the Pickwick Greyhound bus, enroute from Los Angeles to Denver, were injured. Bits of wreckage and bodies were strewn for 200 yards by a speeding Santa Fe mail train that struck the bus yesterday at a crossing near the ancient pueblo of Isleta.

After the collision blazing gasoline burned the clothing from some of the bodies and consumed inflammable parts of the wrecked bus.

So broken were bodies of the victims that their identity had to be learned from letters and their effects and baggage.

State officials here have moved to investigate thoroughly the cause of the crash. District Attorney Lujan announced an inquest into the deaths would be held at 10 a. m. Monday in Albuquerque.

Will Hold Inquiry

Attaches of the district attorney's office interviewed the 10 shaken survivors and rounded up witnesses for the inquiry. Officials of the Santa Fe railroad, members of the Pickwick Greyhound Co., and members of the trian crew are to be summoned.

Plane Over Lake Michigan
Enroute To Chicago

CHICAGO, April 12.—Lower Lake Michigan was scanned today in the search for Ralph Fisher Skelton, a Chicago portrait painter, who was many hours overdue at Pal-Waukee airport on a return flight from Detroit.

In his own monoplane, Skelton left Detroit at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, landing a short time later at Ann Arbor, Mich., for gasoline. Taking off again at 4:30, Skelton headed directly west and friends believed he attempted to cross Lake Michigan and was forced to alight in the water, in which event, airmen said, the plane would have sunk.

Sheriff's Car Burns As
Forty-Mile Chase
Comes to End

PIQUA, April 12.—Spurred on by rewards of $6,000, police of three states, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, today pushed search for the murderous gang of bank bandits who literally shot up the town here yesterday, killing one man and wounding three others, after looting the Citizens National bank of $5,500.

Though reports reached here that the high-powered sedan of the machine-gun armed bandits was seen near Muncie, Ind., the manhunt concentrated around Lake St. Marys where the outlaws may have a "hangout" in one of the summer cabins there.

During a thrilling chase, in which round after round of shots were fired, the desperadoes' car eluded the automobile of Sheriff Frank Matthews near Port Laramie after the sheriff had doggedly followed the trail for 40 miles. His machine caught fire from an overheated engine and burned up.

To Sheriff Matthews, it is more than a hunt for outlaws. The man who was shot down and fatally wounded is Henry Matthews, brother of the county officer.

Use Machine Gun

Sensational gun play featured the daring raid on the bank here. It started when a bank employee stepped on the alarm in the bank, which also started a large alarm on the outside clanging.

Henry Matthews ran from his nearby store. The bandit look-out, posted to guard the escape of his companions who entered the bank, opened fire on Matthews with a machine gun. A bullet entered the (Continued on Page 3)

HOOVER PLEASED WITH RESULT OF PARITY MEETING

Vast Sum Has Been Saved
By Conference; Has
Praise Words

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 12.—The abolition of competitive naval building and a world saving of approximately $2,500,000,000 are, in the opinion of President Hoover, the important accomplishments of the London conference.

With the termination of international rivalry in warship construction, the chief executive foresees "the burial of the fears and suspicions" which have been its "constant product." He predicts that the money saved will be devoted to re-productive enterprise and result in a greatly stimulated world prosperity.

The president has cabled to the American delegates at London his approval of the agreement reached there and his "admiration for their patience and determination in an arduous and difficult negotiation." In addition, he wishes to congratulate the representatives of the four other powers which participated in the conference for their "constructive and courageous action."

All this was made known late yesterday when the president met the Washington correspondents for the regular semi-weekly press conference. He issued a lengthy statement summarizing his views on the benefits to be derived from the London agreement.

In estimating the financial saving, Mr. Hoover compared the sums to be spent for naval construction under the accord affected this week with what would have been expended on a basis of the fleets provided for in the unsuccessful Geneva conference of 1927. The saving to the United States alone, he estimated at approximately one billion dollars.

The net result of the London agreement Mr. Hoover expects to be "a very considerable decrease" in the world's actual naval tonnage as it stands today.

72 Suddenly

(By The Associated Press)
Cooler and cloudy weather was predicted for Ohio today after a day of record breaking high temperatures and summer stole a march on the calendar.

The mercury stood well up in the 80's generally over the state yesterday. New all-time April 11 records set included 87 at Akron, 91 at Marion, 85 at Springfield, 88 at Dayton, 90 at Findlay and 86 at Lima.

Cincinnati experienced its hottest April day since weather records were first kept in 1871. At Sandusky, street thermometers read 94. The warmth drew thousands of motorists out for spins and at Sandusky small boys went in for a swim. Cleveland parks saw their first picnic dinners of the year.

CHICAGO, April 12.—The middle west, which got hot Thursday and Friday, had cooled off today in a hurry.

A shift in the wind sent the temperatures in Chicago from 90 degrees down to 72 in four minutes yesterday. Before an hour passed, the reading was 52. Cloudy and continued cool was today's weather prophecy.

Light rains over both Dakotas helped get the temperature back where it belonged, and thunder showers in eastern Iowa did away with temperatures which had gone as high as 94 degrees in Cedar Rapids.

Forest fires occurred in Iowa and Indiana. One hundred farmers finally put down a fire that threatened the villages of Shueville and a 200 acre stretch of timber.

CHICAGO, April 12.—The danger of drought and attendant crop losses, became more acute today throughout the central and south-western states as much-needed rainfall continued to hold off in most sections.

BURDEN OF A BAD NAME

Chicago is wisely refraining from making apology for the sins alleged against her. Instead, she is holding herself out to the world as she is, challenging comparison with other cities as a place of residence, showing that her murders are fewer, population considered; her per capita debt less, and her tax rate lower than most of the great cities of the land.

It is generally conceded that Chicago holds a place by herself in civic beautification. Her development in this respect has been marvelous in recent years, not only for the artistry displayed, but also in the substantial character of her improvements.

There has been nothing of the shoddy about them. She has built not for the present alone, but for the future, and today she stands a combination of city planning and architectural development without peer on the continent.

The great excellence of her physical advantages conceded, let us look into the case she makes for herself by comparison with other American cities.

Chicago offers statistics to show that her murder rate of 15.8 to the 100,000 of population in 1928 was reduced in 1929 to 12.7, against rates of 18.5 in Sacramento, 18.6 in Detroit, 22.3 in Miami, 23.2 in Cincinnati, 24.6 in Kansas City, 27.6 in Houston, 28.9 in New Orleans, 46.9 in Jacksonville, 51 in Atlanta, 51.3 in Birmingham and 66.8 in Memphis.

Chicago shows her per capita debt to be $95, against $115 in Kansas City, $118 in Minneapolis, $135 in Cleveland, $143 in Buffalo, $163 in Detroit, $175 in Pittsburgh, $199 in Philadelphia and $245 in New York. She further shows that her tax rate of $19.40 is some lower than the $20 rate of Cleveland and the $20.75 rate of Los Angeles; that it falls considerably below the $21.17 rate of Baltimore and the $21.75 rate of Detroit; and that it is far below the New York rate of $23.88 the $25.08 rate of Buffalo, that of Philadelphia of $25.65, the $25.92 rate of Boston and Pittsburgh's exceptionally high rate of $32.16.

Rather a forceful showing, as we see it. From the comparisons it offers, one gets a far different picture of Chicago from that which has been in the public eye.

It is not that of a city bled dry through high taxes; not that of a city staggering under a debt burden from which there is no hope of relief; not that of a city crime-ridden beyond any city in the country.

It offers good ground for her contention that she has unfairly and unjustly been made the target for much criticism which she in no way deserves, and establishes ample basis for resentment over the reputation given her as a result of such criticism.

But disagreeable as it must be to Chicago to find herself in a position where she is forced to take steps to reestablish herself in public esteem, her case carries a whole new lesson to population centers.

No city can afford for long to remain silent and seemingly indifferent to slurs and flings cast at her; no city, no matter what its size, can successfully bear the burden of a bad name.

Ambassador Hugh Gibson says that the Agreement reached between the United States, Great Britain and Japan will save the three countries $800,000,000 to $900,000,000 in the next six years. Looks like a low-down trick on congress. Now it will have to go to work to figure out some way to spend our share of the saving.

Soviet Russia is making a bid for American tourist trade by offering to abolish its incoming visa fee of $22. Of course, there is a catch in the thing, as there always is in any proposition offered by the bolsheviks. To get the benefit of the proposal the tourist must travel under the auspices of the official soviet tourist bureau, which will take pains that he sees what the bolshevik want him to see.

What Others Say

OUR CONGRESSIONAL CRITICS

Certain among our congressmen are telling how they would run a newspaper as it should be run in America. Like many other very good folk, they feel that they know just how this should be done.

These statements do not say—of course such admission could not be expected—that newspaper support is most desirable in their individual campaigns, but they appear practically to be unanimous that in every other way the entire newspaper business is wrong and easily could be righted by congressional editorship.

For example, Senator Caraway, of Arkansas, asserts that he would tell the truth and so publish "the most unique paper in America."

An evidence of his shyness and faith, why doesn't senator Caraway just that little thing on the floor of the senate? Expression of the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, in senate discussion and activity possibly might prove to be quite as "unique" as would the kind of paper the senator has in mind.

Like Diogenes in his search for an honest man Senator Caraway blithely avers that he never yet has discovered a truthful newspaper. But Diogenes lived too soon to have access to the upper house, and the Arkansas senator seems to have lived too long to enjoy faith in fellow-citizens through whose dispassionate routine functionings the world alone is made at all aware of the senator's existence.

Senator Dill would have us give less space to crime and divorce laws and talk more about the development of the country and congressmen, while Congressmen Huddleston holds the opinion that the country's press should deal generally in "more worthy" things than in their habit. He is gracious enough "to believe" that we could do it.

Congressman LaGuardia would like in his own way to run a newspaper, but sapiently admits that he "would go broke" if he tried to do it.

Considering congressional average caliber and customary activity, these declarations are rather funny. The memory of the common citizen is long and whether they believe it or not, he keeps his eye rather closely focused on members of congress. The fact that he remains the good citizen and substantial support of all that is worth while in the public and private life of America probably is due to the fact that he reads the papers so cavalierly condemned by ultra-righteously and cocksure congressional opinion.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

DRESS TO THE WEATHER

Seeing the first robin winging northward on the beach of Spring conjures up thought of other things than the approach of warm weather.

For one thing it means more care in regulating indoor temperatures, so a uniform warmth pervades the house for the sake of the baby or young child in the house. It means, also, that a child shall be warmly enough clad on the cool, wet days when out-of-doors.

The sudden spring change of weather brings with them the usual epidemics of colds and resulting life. The slight cold may grow into a chronic one if care is not taken in time.

Young children think nothing of running out-of-doors, without coat or hat. Content, like in wading, in every mud puddle available. If there is a wet place anywhere in sight there the average child wends his way. You can't change human nature!

A child's cold should not be neglected. An habitually running nose may lead to worse things if it is not cured. Some children are very susceptible to changes from a warm house to the cold out-of-doors. The slight cold hangs on for some time.

Such a child should have cod-liver oil perhaps for two weeks out of every month. This builds up his resistance to colds.

A delicate child should be dressed for the weather. The clothing should be warm enough on the cool days, and lighter clothing should be worn on the warm days.

A cold on the chest is one of the most common ailments of young children. Wetting the feet, exposure to cold and insufficient clothing, are factors that cannot be overlooked. They are dangerous for almost any child.

There cannot be too much said about the advantages of sunlight in the early Spring and Summer months for the growing child. The early Summer days seem long indeed to the school child. He wants to get out-of-doors. Every moment of the time possible a child should be out in the fresh air and sunshine.

On the first warm days a child may be fretful and peevish. He should be carefully watched to see if there is anything serious the matter. If underweight, your doctor should see the child and tell you what to do.

An underweight child should have plenty of nourishing food, the best of milk, cereals, fruits and vegetables. Not only do these supply food, but they give him those vitamins so necessary to growth and energy. Not only must he have the out-of-doors and sunshine, but also plenty of rest as well.

Rickets in children is an ailment that begins with underweight. Before the trouble progresses, have your doctor pass judgment upon your child's diet and general health.

Extremes of weather, either hot or cold, should be a time of great care to keep children from "catching cold," or from becoming overheated. So in the warm days dress a child so he will be comfortable, and on a cold day keep him protected with plenty of warm clothes.

For Sunday, April 13.

Sunday's horoscope holds promise of flourishing mystical or spiritual matters, or success in all manner of curious or singular research or psychic experiences. The figure also heightens the musical and poetic faculty of a high order.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of success in singular or intriguing affairs, but employment may give concern and money matters are hazardous. Avoid speculation and loans.

A child born on this day may have a leaning toward the singular or unusual, or may succeed through stratagem or diplomacy rather than in routine avenues of employment.

For Monday, April 14.

Monday's astrological map holds augury of the breaking away of some old obstacles, but also hints of complications and problems of a personal as well as business nature. These may be heightened by irascibility or impetuosity. It would be well to be on guard as to physical safety.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of some personal as well as business complications and anxieties, which may be contributed to by a personal proclivity to rashness or impulsive actions or behavior. Care with correspondence and as to personal safety are enjoined. Some progress may be made by patience and diligence.

A child born on this day may be disposed to industry and application, but may also be careless and indolgent in his personal conduct. He should be given firm training and discipline in self-control and discreet behavior.

Late in the year 1855, D. R. Locke, afterward famous as the author of Petroleum V. Nasby letters, left Plymouth, O., in company with James G. Robinson, they having sold newspaper property there, and came to Mansfield, where they bought the interest of Matthias Day in the Mansfield Herald. The two men had come to Plymouth from Pittsburgh, where both had been employed as journeymen printers. Robinson took the business end of the enterprise and Locke the editorial.

But Locke has a spicy style that lent itself better to the treatment of news matter and Rowell Brinkerhoff, then a young attorney, was employed to write the editorials. They made the Herald an interesting paper, the local news columns being especially attractive under Locke's treatment, and he soon evinced that talent for humorous writing that characterized him later on, by producing a series of articles featuring the courtship, marriage and subsequent married life experiences of one "Snigs." They attracted much attention.

Brinkerhoff said he once suggested to Locke that they ought to be published in book form and he replied that he had thought about it, but he never took any steps toward it and years afterward when Brinkerhoff thought of doing it himself and went to the files of the Herald to look them over, he found that they had all been clipped out. EATON WAGING BATTLE AGAINST STEEL MERGER

Stockholders Approval of Combination Has Been Made; Still In Court

(By The Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, April 12.—Merger of Youngstown Sheet & Tube with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, today bore the approval of stockholders, but final consummation of the billion dollar deal still must run a gauntlet of court action that may make history in the nation's corporation legal battles.

Announcement that 57,821 shares of Sheet and Tube stock, 58,000 more than the necessary two-thirds majority, had been voted in favor of the consolidation was made last night.

Immediately afterward Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier who has bitterly contested the deal with all the resources at the command of his millions, declared he will fight on through the courts and spend his last penny if necessary to frustrate the merger.

The vote election inspectors announced was based on stock held as of record March 22 and part of Eaton's legal battle has been based on the contention that more than 91,000 shares transferred since that date should not have been voted. Presumably Eaton now controls enough of this pivotal block to wipe out the 58,000 shares winning the balloting for the merger proponents.

The vote was announced after Common Pleas Judge C. S. Turney dissolved a temporary injunction obtained by the Eaton forces which restrained recording of the tabulation. The opposition today was prepared to appeal this decision. Eaton's forces also announced a variety of suits will be filed attacking the validity of the merger on the grounds that it was "railroaded through" and is detrimental to Sheet and Tube interests.

Eugene C. Grace, president of Bethlehem, and James A. Campbell, chairman of Sheet and Tube, accepted the vote as victory for the merger and announced that "certainly will be consummated." Although facing the prospect of legal delays, both said the actual combination cannot take place until the court battles have ended, but were confident of success.

EXONERATED OF LIQUOR CHARGE

Minister Not Indicted By Jury After Booze Is Found In Traveling Bag

ST. PAUL, April 12.—Rev. William F. Diehl, Fairbault, Minn., minister was exonerated of liquor possession charges. The grand jury failed to return an indictment against him.

The Rev. Mr. Diehl was arrested by prohibition agents who raided the Junior hotel Wednesday night and seized a quantity of liquor, including a bottle which they said was found in the minister's traveling bag. He denied knowledge of the bottle and said he had gone to the hotel to arrange the sale of some furniture to its proprietors.

PIRATES STILL REAL MENACE TO SHIPPING IN CHINESE WATERS

Real Opposition Arises to Removal of British Guards From Ships; Cite Many Instances of Murder and Thefts

(By The Associated Press)

HONGKONG, April 12.—Proposals of the British government to remove military guards from merchant vessels operating in Chinese waters have been received with a storm of protest from Hongkong shipping concerns.

Too many pirates occur every year to make the step of removing British guards from the coastal boats a wise one, the shippers argue, even though the native guards are substituted by the shipping firms themselves.

Ever since British shipping became an important factor commercially in the waters of southern China, the government has supplied all vessels flying the British flag with an armed guard—usually a squad or two of soldiers. The mere fact that these soldiers have been aboard has served to keep pirates from attacking a vessel and for this reason, special detachments of "Tomnies" have been kept in Hongkong ready for guard duty aboard ship at a minute's notice.

Fear For Officers
If the British soldiers are removed, owners fear that the safety of foreign ships' officers will be placed in unnecessary danger, even if a substitute guard is arranged.

In this respect, the owners point to the piracy of the steamer, Anking last September, as an example. During this incident, two foreign officers were killed together with a Chinese member of the crew, all because there was no guard aboard except a few armed natives. The captain and third officer were wounded while the pirates carried off seven passengers for ransom.

The incident stirred the foreign officers along the China coast and yet it was only four months later, at Singapore, when the owners of a vessel and its foreign officers came to grips over the subject and the latter lost the case.

The ship was leaving Singapore for China with a heavy passenger list of plantation laborers, "rich" after several months' work in the straits settlements and likely plunder for pirates.

Demote Commanders
When sailing time came, the foreign officers demurred at lifting anchor and getting underway without a guard and made representation to the owners to that effect. After much wrangling a guard was provided, but the ship had been delayed some five hours in sailing.

This piqued the owners to such an extent that they demoted all the officers and had them removed to smaller ships. The result is that each side is somewhat apprehensive of the other and unless guards of some description are maintained, there is bound to be bad blood.

The number of pirates of importance that were committed last year reaches the amazing total of 600. Most of the victims were large Chinese junks carrying cargo from and to coastal ports. Only 11 large steamers were attacked by the sea robbers, but this number was sufficient to cause serious thought among the owners.

MRS. MCCORMICK WILL RUN AS DRY

Announces Stand After A Consultation With Pres. Hoover

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Ruth Hanna McCormick, the Republican nominee for senator from Illinois, will run for that office as a dry.

A question concerning the "wet" stand of her Democratic opponent, former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, elected the response:

"I have always been dry and there is no reason to change." She promised that she would have "plenty to say" on the prohibition subject when the campaign gets into full swing next fall.

Mrs. McCormick was interviewed early last evening after she had engaged in a long conference with President Hoover. She said she was "entirely with the president of his law enforcement program," but that they had "most amicably agreed to disagree" on the question of American adhesion to the world court.

In her primary campaign, which ended this week, in a victory over Senator Charles S. Deneen, the present incumbent, Mrs. McCormick made the world court her principal issue.

MOON TRIP

Cannon would be fired to cushion the drop of the sphere onto the moon's surface.

The voyagers would find themselves on a satellite which is airless, waterless and lifeless, where days and night are two weeks long and where temperatures range from 212 degrees Fahrenheit at noon at the temperature of liquid air at midnight.

Gravity on the moon being only one-sixth of that on the earth, men would be able to carry several hundred pounds of apparatus to provide air and regulate the temperature. They would travel in garb similar to diving suits.

"The return would be made by 'shooting' the sphere off the surface of the moon and navigating it back to earth by means of the cannon."

SUPERIOR in PERFORMANCE

An 85-horsepower engine makes the New Oakland Eight the highest powered car produced for its weight and size, only racing cars excepted. Because it develops one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight, few cars can match the New Oakland's speed, pick-up and power. This ratio of power to weight accounts for its superior performance. Furthermore, the inherent eight-cylinder smoothness of the power plant is intensified by a complete down-draft fuel system—new type cylinder heads—a short, very rigid crankshaft—and laminated steel spring and rubber engine supports. The New Oakland Eight is also very economical to own. Its gasoline mileage equals that of many sixes of comparison.

TO THE EXCEPTIONAL woman, rich, able to do what she pleases but hitherto finding little amusing excitement after 60, flying offers relief.

The British Duchess of Bedford, 64 years old, goes up and down the earth at a rate of speed that old Satan never dreamed of. She has just started the second leg of flight from London to South Africa, an able pilot and mechanic keeping her company.

You could say that a flying man or woman could write a book, "Things I Have Seen," that would eclipse Voltaire's "Choixes Vues" ("Things Seen"), for Voltaire crawled around on the earth's surface.

HOWEVER, NOT THE EYES but the heart and brain do the real seeing. Nobody, for instance, could see a landscape as Claude Lorraine could see it. No one else sees a baby as its mother sees it.

Gandhi, starved Hindu, whose sincerity causes the British empire more anxiety than all his 300,000,000 fellow Hindus combined, learns as other enthusiasts have done, that the spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak.

Weighing barely 100 pounds, eating no meat, taking no stimulants, a walk of 200 miles that would seem a joke to an Irishman or a Scotchman has exhausted him. He cannot go on.

THE REAL PROBLEM OF INDIA has nothing to do with Great Britain and is illustrated in news of a clash between high-caste Hindus and "untouchables," miserable creatures numbering millions despised by the Hindus of high rank, who consider it a disgrace to even touch them. Many untouchables were cruelly beaten in spite of police protection. A country that classes millions of human beings lower than dogs, demands the right to marry girls under 10 years of age to adult men, and to burn young widows alive with their dead husbands' bodies has problems more serious than British rule.

STYLE EDICTS

PARIS, April 12.—Tiny tots wear takes very much after their mothers this season and the result is a charming miniature of what is smart for the Bois, the Ritz tea or at a chic cabaret.

Tiny double-breasted topcoats are of rose or lemon-yellow in kasha wool or baby blue and first spring green in a wool hopsack. The grown up shoulder cape sometimes appears in ridiculous proportions but safely attached to the little coat beneath its rolled collar. There are insertions and appliques and belts repeating mother's fashion notes. One charming coat for the little tot comes in pale blue smooth cloth quilted like the shaped band of cloth that borders the tiny frock of crepe de chine.

Prettiest party frocks come in daintiest silk and crepe covered with fine tucks and inserted bows of narrow lace. One in rosy-red silk and wool mixture has the skirt gathered at the empire waistline and little epaulettes over a guimpe of white batiste with tiny shirred yoke. A little velvet bonnet matches the frock.

At Chez Fairland there is a charming little party frock in pale blue crepe de chine with trimming of Beauvais embroidery and an unusual arrangement of pleating. Another in red georgette crepe has the high waist marked with a double boudon such as that which finishes the bottom of the skirt.

Tiniest tailor-mades in tweed are an amusing item of Poulton Zette's collection for tiny tots. They have shortest imaginable skirts and jackets with little tuck-in blouses of silk or flannel.

Killed By Car

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, April 12.—Mrs. Julia Skymansky, 36, was struck and killed by a coal car at a mine near here yesterday.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Green butter we have known for a long time, and brown butter. They are naturally colored by the addition of parsley or mint in the one case, and cooking in the other, and they are served as dressings for their flavor, not merely for their color.

Blue bread and red bread, however, are a very recent novelty—marking the invasion of color for its own sake into the most utilitarian of foods, the sandwich. Presently we shall see all the colors of the rainbow on lunch counters for the tired business man. These sandwiches are tinted with harmless vegetable dyes, and neither the flavor nor the texture of the bread is affected. The colored sandwich is just decoration and may tempt a jaded adult appetite.

Highly decorative foods also have a place at the late supper or the elegant tea—when food is served as the background for conviviality, and nobody wants to eat anything particularly nourishing. Also many ladies eager to "cling" to a dieting rule find that alluring dainties—which can't ever taste nearly as good as they look—provide the minimum calories, while satisfying the eye.

Not only color, but form is a help in preparing attractive foods for these light meals. A set of fancy cutters—circles, hearts, stars, and so on, are desirable in preparing these decorative open-face sandwiches. These are suitable for teas and late suppers.

After cutting bread thin and into various shapes, additional attractive touches are provided by covering with different colored spreads. Instead of plain butter, yellow mayonnaise or the white cream cheese rubbed to smoothness with a little thick sweet cream. Mixing either mayonnaise or butter with chopped watercress, chopped parsley or mint will make a pleasant green foundation. Tomato juice or pink caviar will give a pink spread; the black caviar or a few drops of Worcester sauce will form a dark spread and a colorful basis for slices of hard-boiled egg, white tuna fish or chopped chicken.

In the Churches

Holy Trinity English Lutheran East State st. at Woodland ave, Rev. George D. Keister, pastor. Palm Sunday—the sixth Sunday in Lent. Sunday school, 9:45 (St. Matthew 19:1-14) H. E. Smith, Supt. There is a place in the Kingdom of our Lord for the little child. Their faith is of the type that is pleasing to God. Their goodness is more than gilt-edge, it is through and through. They are able to receive God's richest blessing, the Sacrament of Holy Baptism. If you want to belong to God, if you want to get to heaven, pattern your lives after the little children as pertains their faith and trust in God.

Morning worship, 11; spiritual examination of confirmands; service of confirmation; sermon, "Life's Precious Ointment." As Christ entered into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday, so do these confirmands enter into a wider and more active fellowship with Christ the Head of the Church. Confirmation has been practised in the Christian church since the 13th century and even before. It is looked upon as a churchly rite for receiving people into full communion with the church, after they have been properly instructed in the Doctrines of Faith, and then are given the privilege of partaking of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Confirmation is a renewal of the baptismal covenant on the part of the confirmed. Their parents or sponsors at their baptism made the confession of faith and promise of faithfulness, and now the confirmands have attained an age of understanding, so they accept publicly the promises and faith made in their stead, in the act of confirmation.

Sophomores Win Inter-Class Track Title For Second Season

Fair Showing Made By Non-Varsity Thinclads In First Meet Of Year

Sophomore class track and field representatives annexed titular honors in the annual outdoor interclass competition of Salem High school thinclads for the second consecutive year, emerging victorious in the first track event of the 1936 Red and Black season at Reilly athletic stadium Friday.

Second year athletes needed out junior class representatives by a narrow margin of less than six points, the meet being closely contested throughout and a keen battle between the two top aggregations throughout. Senior thinclads, with only a small representation competing, finished a poor third while freshmen were fourth.

The meet was featured by surprising display of probable varsity talents by a number of youngsters in sophomore, junior and freshman classes, good marks being registered by winning contestants in at least six events. Considering the fact that only non-varsity thinclads participated, it was one of the most successful inter-class meets held in several years.

The point standing follows: Sophomores 71 47 points; juniors 65 6-7; seniors 36 5-7; freshmen 29 6-7.

Junior Stars
Work of Lease, well-built junior lad, who is entering track for the first time this season, was one of the highlights of the contest. Lease rung up good marks in the high jump and running broad jump, winning the events from several favorites. His leap in the latter event was better by a good foot than the nearest competitor, being 19 feet 1/2 inch while he cleared the cross pole at 5 ft. 6 in. in the high jump.

Three youths tied for high score honors, garnering 11 points each. They were Thompson (junior); Horstman (sophomore) and George Schmid (senior). Horstman ran a classy 440, finishing two feet ahead of Sammy Drakulich in fairly fast time of 58 seconds flat. Thompson stepped the high hurdles in 19 seconds to take first honors, defeating Schmid, who finished second.

Ray Smith (junior), taking first in the discus and shot put, was fourth in scoring with 10 points. His marks in both events were slightly better than is generally expected of a non-varsity meet. He heaved the shot 39 ft. 9 in. and the platter 107 ft. 10 in. The latter throw is less than five inches from the Columbian county record, now held by his colleague, Bill Smith.

Beck Runs Fast 880
E. Beck, brother of Ed Beck, winner of a varsity letter in 1929, ran a neat half mile in fast time of 2 min. 12 seconds. Harold Walker was forced to the limit in a fast and sensational mile race to nose of Brantingham, turning in time of 5 minutes flat.

Arnold, a freshman, pulled a muscle in winning the 100-yd dash in 11.1 seconds. He has run the race in 10.5 seconds in previous years.

Results of the meet gave Coaches Floyd Stone and Harold McCord more to work on than the usual supply of lettermen and indications at present are that the 1929 edition of Stonemen will be strong in at least six events but will probably be weak in others.

Points scored by various athletes and summary of events follows:

THE DAY In Sports

OPPOSITE PERSONALITIES
STONE FACES PROBLEM

TWO DISTINCTLY opposite personalities but both great athletes appeared in Salem during the past 48 hours as speakers on two occasions. Hans Wagner, noted baseball player, addressed the gathering at the Memorial building Thursday night and yesterday morning Salem high school students heard Bennie Osterbaan, former all-American football and all Western Conference basketball star.

WAVING A LONG stogie in his left hand, his hands toughened and fingers bent from years' experience in baseball, Wagner related old-time experiences in athletics in a unique but interesting manner. He represented baseball as played 29 years ago, narrating stories reminiscent of the time when an athlete was forced to be able to display talent in fistfights in order to maintain his individual prestige among the team. Wagner is one of many old-timers who are convinced that modern baseball is rapidly becoming too well organized and much too "sufficed."

OSTERBAAN, one of the greatest football and basketball players ever developed at Michigan, was a true representative of the athlete of today, the type that is well educated, attains high rank in scholarship standings but still is able to fulfill all athletic requirements. A clean-cut lad, Osterbaan gave an interesting talk on "How to Play the Game" and told students of his experiences with fellow-gridders who exemplified the modern school spirit which has to a certain extent, replaced the pugnaciousness in all sports, even in major league baseball where college lads are appearing in prominent roles.

THE FORMER MICHIGAN star directed a stirring order at lads who, despite the fact that they have athletic ability, continually refuse to offer anything to their school by failing to report for varsity practices. He attacked the type of player or non-player who refuses to exert himself in any case other than one in which he will secure some profit for himself.

HIS STATEMENTS along this line were entirely appropriate to the situation now being faced by Coach Floyd Stone in track. A clique of youngsters who have shown signs of possible development into track stars have failed to heed his call to track practices, actions which have had evil effect on those school-spurred performers who are willing to give all they can. One of his stories related how a youth, weighing only 135 pounds, started in football at Michigan, forging to the front through sheer will. Such an incident should put to shame the tracksters with whom Stone is having trouble at the present time.

Looks Like Dempsey, Carnera Will Meet Maxie--Maybe

NEW YORK, April 12. — If Max Schmeling wins the heavyweight championship—only the gentleman didn't say if, he said when—he will turn his back on the Madison Square Garden corporation and the title within three months against either Jack Dempsey or Primo Carnera in Chicago.

If Carnera is to be the challenger, Dempsey will have a hand in the promotion. If John himself goes in there for the honor of American manhood and so forth, George Getz, Chicago merchant, will be the nominal, if not the actual promoter.

This was the sum total of an announcement made today by Joe Jacobs, who is not recognized as the manager of Max Schmeling by the New York boxing commission but contrives to bear up very bravely in the face of this misfortune. He merely is recognized by Schmeling himself.

In declaring himself on the immediate future, Jacobs gave the garden outfit one chance. Its president, William F. Carey, practically informed Schmeling the other day that he would have to park Jacobs in the vestibule if he wished to do business with the local monopolists. Today, Jacobs issued a similar ultimatum to the garden.

Reynolds was suspended for relinquishing his title a few weeks after winning it. In asking reinstatement, he agreed to defend the championship once every four months as required by the N. B. A.

Dempsey Visions Carnera-Godfrey

CHICAGO, April 12.—Jack Dempsey has offered Meares, Duffy and See, managers of Primo Carnera, $50,000 and a percentage of the gate, for an outdoor bout in Chicago some time this summer.

The former heavyweight champion, however, does not propose to meet the Italian himself, but has lined up George Godfrey, huge negro from Leipsville, Pa., as Primo's opposition.

Chicago Slugger To Join Squad Today

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 12.—Rogers Hornsby, batting ace of the championship Chicago Cubs, was to join his team here today after an absence of nearly two weeks.

Hornsby left his squad at Los Angeles and went to Chicago and St. Louis for an examination of his right heel. Hornsby will be able to play tomorrow for the Kansas City Blues.

The Cubs defeated the Blues by a 6 to 1 score yesterday.

Cleveland Will Run Good Third In Race Is Experts' Thought

BY ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, April 12.—To support the theory that everybody loves a winner, the baseball experts have given the Chicago Cubs as big a vote of confidence in the forthcoming National league race as they did the Athletics in the American league scramble.

The results of the fourth annual Associated Press consensus, compiled today from the opinions of more than three score major league baseball writers and sports editors, show an overwhelming majority satisfied to string along with the 1929 pennant winners.

The A's have it by only a slight margin, whereas 69 out of 66 named the Mackmen to win again. 34 out of 66 have gone on record as favoring the Cubs to repeat.

In the American league, the remaining five votes for first place went to the Yankees. In the National, the Pittsburgh Pirates have nine votes for first place (all cast before Grimes was traded); while St. Louis gets two and the New York Giants one.

On the basis of the general balloting, the experts look for a much tighter race in the National league, with at least two formidable "dark horses" representing Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

It took a pennant victory by the Cubs last year to finally make them favorites. Joe McCarthy's men were picked fifth in 1927 and finished fourth, selected for third position in 1928 and finished third, named as runners-up to the Giants last year in a very close finish, the Bruins completely upset the dope by making it a runaway, while the Giants skidded down to third.

Thus how the Associated Press consensus predicts each league's order of finish:

National — Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Cincinnati and Boston.

American — Philadelphia, New York, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago, Washington and Boston.

The Chicago Cubs, with the hitting and pitching they possess, appear to dominate their league in spite of infield accidents and uncertainties as to the condition of Bell and Hornsby. Meanwhile, the chances of the club picked to give them the toughest fight, Pittsburgh, seem to have been hit by the release of Burleigh Grimes to Boston.

Portable talking picture apparatus has been invented, chiefly for use in schools and churches and to aid salesmen.

Award of a beautiful bronze plaque has been made to W. H. Kniseley & Son, Inc., of Salem, by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., of Akron, in recognition of the local man's 20 years of friendly relations with the Ohio Company.

The plaque was accompanied by a letter from P. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Co., expressing his appreciation of Mr. Kniseley's loyal representation of their concern as one of its dealers.

The name of Kniseley's and the Goodyear Co., both appear in upraised letters upon the bottom of the plaque. Various vehicles of transportation, including the private automobile, bus, truck, railroad train, steamboat, airplane and Zeppelin, are portrayed in bas-relief.

In the background looms the main plant of Goodyear's home factory at Akron and the huge Zeppelin factory and dock which was completed recently on Akron's Municipal airport.

In the center foreground appears a Goodyear All-Weather Tread auto tire which encircles the flag of the Goodyear Co.

The picture symbolizes the advancement of transportation facilities being stimulated by the cooperative efforts of the vast Goodyear organization and W. H. Kniseley & Son, Inc., its local representative. W. H. Kniseley & Son, Inc., plan to hang the beautiful plaque in a conspicuous place in their store so that their many patrons and friends may inspect it.

22 INJURED IN INDIAN RIOTING

Passive Resistance Goes As Stones and Sandals Fly at Police

(By The Associated Press)
BOMBAY, INDIA, April 12.—Twenty-two persons were injured in rioting outside the courthouse here today when a number of Satyagrahis who yesterday offered passive resistance during a police raid on national congress headquarters were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment.

A large crowd attempted to get at some of the prisoners, as they were removed, for the purpose of hanging garlands on them.

The police fought the mob and the Indians charged from passive resistance to reply with a shower of stones and sandals.

Ten police, of whom three were Europeans, were injured in the rain of missiles. The police then charged on the crowd with their lathis or bludgeons, scattering them. There were 12 casualties among the Indians.

Mahatma Gandhi, who yesterday had to curb his salt-making because of high blood pressure, asserted to a reporter that his health was excellent except that he had received a bruising from kindly nature that he must hasten slowly if he don't wish to court a breakdown.

He said that if his health permitted he would concentrate his attention on Gujarat, which he said has not given his movement of civil disobedience its deserved support, but could go no further despite an embarrassing number of invitations to visit other parts of India.

MOVIES

Rudy Vallee, the Art Shires of the musical world, will appear at the Grand theater, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week, in his first venture as screen star, appearing in "The Vagabond Lover." Vallee, one of the country's most popular radio entertainers, plays in the picture with a cast composed of Sally Blane, Marie Dressler, Charles Nelson, Norman Peck, Eddie Nugent, and others. His Connecticut Yankees orchestra also appears.

Vallee's debut on celluloid rates second, however, to Marion Davies' latest starring opus, that termed "Not So Dumb," a picture in which Donald Ogden Stewart, one of America's best known humorists, also appears. Opposite Miss Davies in the leading made role, is Elliott Nugent. Raymond Hackett, Franklin Pangborn, Sally Starr and Julie Faye also appear in prominent roles.

"Not So Dumb" is at the State theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The week's complete program follows:

AT THE STATE

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday—"Little Johnny Jones"; all talking comedy, "Great Gobs"; screen act, sound news.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday—"Not So Dumb"; all-talkie "Big Kick."

AT THE GRAND

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday—"Vagabond Lover"; "Uppercut O'Brien"; screen act, talking revue.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday—"The Sap"; Voice From The Sky; Act.

"The Sap" stars Edward Everett Horton, one of the few comedians of the screen who has managed to survive since entrance of talkies. It is Horton's most human-like characterization, one in which he is cast as the small-town huddle of Patsy Ruth Miller, an outstanding favorite here.

"Little Johnny Jones" is a race-horse drama with the "Personality Kid," Eddie Buzzell, in the lead role. The picture is taken from George Cohan's great comedy hit of the same name and includes many of Cohan's most famous songs.

Climaxing a week of good pictures at the State is "In the Next Room," a mystery drama starring Jack Mulhall as a newspaper reporter trying to solve a puzzling murder mystery. "Romance of the Rio Grande," Warner Baxter's latest thriller, is at the Grand.

GUIDE ACCUSED BY J. E. BRISTOW

Oil Operator Claims Man Arranged Kidnaping With Bandits

(By The Associated Press)
TEPIC, NAYARIT, MEXICO, April 12.—C. Fields, guide of Mexican-French extraction, is accused by J. E. Bristow, San Angelo oil man of having delivered him over to bandits, who after holding him captive for a month, released him Wednesday upon payment of 3,000 pesos (about $1,500) ransom.

In a report to the Mexican Military authorities, Bristow affirmed that Fields, accompanying him in quest of copper and zinc deposits into the wilds of Nayarit, plotted with the bandit gang headed by Cruz Delgado for his capture, and then tried to collect the ransom for himself.

Bristow's story was that he had hired Fields as his interpreter while he made a trip to a prospective copper mine site in far eastern Nayarit, where he worked for two days at copper prospecting, satisfying himself the deposits which he located were valuable, told Fields on March 9, he was ready to leave the guide insisted on remaining another day saying that he wished to get some lead samples for his employer.

The American said his guide was often absent for many hours at a time. He consented to remain another day, and just at dark while his party was sitting around the camp fire, six bandits with rifles surrounded them. Bristow dashed for a small hut where the party's rifles were kept but found them missing.

The bandits disregarded others in the party but came straight for him, signifying that he should put up his hands. After conferring with Fields, who acted as interpreter, they mounted him on a mule and made off up the mountainside, at the top of which he found Cruz Delgado, leader of the gang.

Cimarron

By Edna Ferber

When hearing the title of Miss Ferber's new book, usually the first thing asked is—what does it mean? It is a Spanish word meaning wild and unruly. About 1830 it became the name of the territory between Texas and Oklahoma, that was the stronghold of the lawless and the desperate.

The book itself concerns that overnight settling of Oklahoma, a story of the cowboys, Indians, and desperadoes. Yancey Cravat a man with personality, mysterious and romantic, in the sense that no one knows from whence he came, but suddenly appearing on the Venable horizon and marrying the lovely Sabra. Not satisfied to settle down he takes Sabra and their small son, Cim, into the recently opened Oklahoma territory to the town of Asage, where he starts a newspaper.

It is one of the best books that Miss Ferber has ever written. There isn't a dull page to be found in the book. It is as vivid and colorful as the Oklahoma territory was at that time. As Yancey said to his wife Sabra on the eve of their departure, "We're going out, by God, to a brand new, two-fisted, rip-snorting country, full of Indians and rattlesnakes and two-gun toters and spy water and deer-shoot! Whoop!" And so it was, Miss Ferber says in her introduction "Anything can have happened in
